6 Candidates for Village Trustee

AN ANTIOCH NEWS PHOTOGRAPHER escaped serious injury during last Friday's game at Warren when he almost got a "Rawlings sandwich." (That's sports jargon for a basketball-in-the-mouth, folks.) Luckily, Russ Albano, the Antioch player trying to save the ball from going out of bounds, also missed the photographer. Number 50 of the Warren Blue Devils seemed to be yelling, "Kill!" Henceforth, action pictures will be taken from farther away, our photographer tells us.

Snowmobiler Drowns Here

A Lake Villa man drowned early last Saturday when his snowmobile plunged into open water on Channel Lake.

He was James M. Lappen, 44, of 857 Cedar Drive. His body was recovered at 11 a.m. Saturday by divers from the Antioch and Fox Lake fire departments.

Lappen's snowmobile went down about 200 yards from the shore at the north end of Linden Lane, just west of Antioch.

THREE OTHERS who were with Lappen survived the tragedy. The Lake County sheriff's department said Lappen and his wife, Donna, and Karl H. Nystrom, also of Lake Villa and his wife, Joan, were

Mrs. Nelson Decides Not To Run Again

There will be only six persons running for the three Antioch village trustee seats to be decided in the Tuesday, Apr. 15, election.

Trustee Margaret A. Nelson has decided not to run for re-election. She had planned to run as an independent but changed her mind and didn't meet Monday's deadline for filing petitions.

Mrs. Nelson said she is not running because of "personal reasons" and that she feels "very sad" about leaving the board at the end of April.

"I thoroughly enjoyed it," she said of her four years as a village trustee.

TWO PARTIES of three persons each will be in the race. They include the People's Party of J. Irving Walsh, Arnold Weber and Diane "Willie" Kasik; and the Concerned Citizens' Party of Dale Frasch, William Carney and former Mayor Raymond Toft.

Two other independents, William Georgeson and Dr. Robert Barnes, began circulating petitions but then decided against filing.

ON APR. 15, voters can split their tickets if they wish and vote for any three of the six candidates.

Walsh is the dean of the village board with 12 years of service and Weber was elected in 1971. Mrs. Kasik is a school bus driver, the mother of seven children and a newcomer to politics.

Frasch is an employe of Cherry Electric in Waukegan and Carney is a Commonwealth Edison employe. Frasch, Carney and Toft all are members of the Antioch volunteer fire department.

NO VILLAGE board meeting will be held next Monday because it is the celebration of Washington's birthday. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 19, instead.

Next Tuesday night the village zoning board will hold another meeting on the request of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Young to have their property at 701 Main St. rezoned from single family to multiple family dwellings.

Fun? Antioch Has It This Weekend!

Two big events are scheduled here this weekend, and both are expected to attract large crowds.

One is the 15th annual, biggest and richest Ice Fishing Derby in the state. The 885 Club and the Northern Illinois Conservation Club will host their attraction on the south end of Channel Lake on both Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday night, at 8:15 p.m., the Antioch High School basketball team plays Woodstock at the local gym and is expected to score its 26th consecutive conference victory -- a new league record. Coaches and players are hoping that all of their fans will turn out for the anticipated history-making game.

More than $6,000 in prizes will be awarded to lucky ice fishermen at the two-day derby. The headquarters building on the Channel Lake ice, adjacent to "Mr. Wonderful's" resort, is very safe. Derby officials checked yesterday and said there are about 10 inches of ice in that particular part of the bay.

The derby will run from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m. each day with games for children and dog sled races as part of the attraction.

Historians Discovered He Was an American 'Saint'

Illinois — The Land of Lincoln. We proclaim it on our license plates and call down the semi-sacred name to adorn gift shops, insurance agencies, and cab companies. Politicians wrap themselves in the cloak of the Great Emancipator, and more than a million tourists visit the Lincoln shrines each year. Perhaps no other state so strongly identifies with the persona of one man, but we seldom examine thoughtfully the realities of the Lincoln ideal.

Abraham Lincoln was first of all a rural man. He was a farm boy, self-educated, and self-sufficient. He abandoned farm life for law and politics, and chose a small town, Springfield, as his adult home. He rose from humble beginnings to ultimate success by hard work, perseverance, and natural intelligence. His life bespoke the American dream.

IT'S ABE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

As did his death. It was his martyrdom which catapulted Lincoln into instant American sainthood. It sharpened the contrast of good vs. evil, and cast the glow of perfection around the fallen President. Combined with a philosophy of individualism and self-help, historians have found humanity, sympathy, compassion, a loving morality, and an intense sense of duty to be the key forces in Lincoln's character.

During the generation following his death, the ghost of Lincoln cast a long shadow over his home state. Biographers squabbled over his past, probed his marriage, his parentage. As life in the state grew increasingly remote from the New Salem cabin and self-education by candlelight, the Lincoln image became a talisman to ward off the fears that accompanied drastic change. Friendship with Lincoln, even if cursory, was a guarantee of a share of the reverence; and "he knew Lincoln" became the definitive phrase and the highest accolade accorded any man in the public eye.

The old symbols

—the noble farmer, the individual triumphant by his own effort—remained; but their reality grew increasingly distorted in the smoke of the factory, the grit of the mine, and the chaos of the city.

Meanwhile in corporate offices, men looked to Lincoln for guidance. Millionaires believed firmly in individualism and especially in self-help. They, and the politicians who accepted Lincoln as a cult hero, selected from the President's life the qualities which justified their adaptation to a new age.

The Lincoln ideals have much to say in our own day. Humanity, compassion, equality of opportunity are needed today as in Lincoln's day.

Opinion

Supreme Court Was Wrong

"I think there is a place for the death penalty."

A few years ago that comment would have sparked great opposition from the liberals.

In fact, in 1972 the Supreme Court invalidated state capital punishment laws.

But when that comment was made last week by Edward Levi, President Ford's choice to be attorney general, it was generally accepted as probably correct.

As Levi pointed out, unless there is better law enforcement and administration of the criminal justice system, the rising rate of street crime will have a disastrous effect on urban society.

Levi, the University of Chicago president, was considered a liberal himself in 1969 and opposed capital punishment.

Today he feels the death penalty, if enforced, would have a deterrent effect. Levi says it is up to the states, not the supreme court, to decide if they want the death penalty.

We agree with him.

Record Sales

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. — Sales and earnings of Abbott Laboratories rose to record levels in the fourth quarter and the full year 1974, President Edward J. Ledder announced.

Fourth quarter earnings were $17.0 million, or $1.24 per share, an improvement of 19.2 percent over earnings of $14.3 million, or $1.04 per share, in the final 1973 period. Sales in the fourth quarter achieved a new high of $220.5 million, a 23.5 percent increase over $178.6 million a year ago.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Campaign Financing Law Lousy Piece of Legislation

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Some of the worst mistakes which occur in government happen as a result of a rush to reform.

That axiom was never better proven than in the case of the Campaign Financing Law which grew out of the Watergate scandal.

When the bill was on its way through Congress I described it as "perhaps the worst piece of legislation passed by Congress in a very long time."

Needless to say, a majority of my colleagues did not agree. They were anxious to get a "reform" statute on the books before the session ended. Consequently, they didn't look into it as carefully as they might have.

IT'S AMAZING to me that by this time the committee chairmen and the subcommittee chairmen of Congress did not understand the perils of an adjournment rush. This is the time when confusion reigns and lobbyists get in their best licks. This is the time when legislation, conceived to deal honestly and rigorously with a set of circumstances, becomes something its author would not approve of.

Frankly, the White House is to blame for much of the speed that propelled the Campaign Financing Law onto the statute books. President Ford called in the leaders of Congress and held a bill-signing ceremony at the White House to celebrate what all believed was a job well done.

NOT ONLY was my warning ignored but many people seemed to think I was being too demanding. If they have been reading the stories about how the law is now being interpreted, they'll begin to understand what I meant. Difficult though it is to understand, it now is apparent that the new law is shot through with loopholes, some of which will produce abuses worse than those we have seen in the past.

For example, it now is discovered that one provision of the law permits a candidate who collects more money than is needed in the campaign to use the post-election surplus in any fashion desired - including the payment of personal bills.

You have to have been a candidate for public office to understand what that could mean. For example, when I ran for President in 1964 we wound up with a campaign surplus of more than $2 million.

IT'S TRUE that the money was collected through the offices of the Republican National Committee at that time, but had the Campaign Financing Law been in effect then it would have been very easy to get an interpretation that, since the $2 million was raised in my behalf, it was only fair that I should be allowed to use such funds in any fashion I desired.

There isn't space in this column to outline the other loopholes that were written into the Campaign Financing Law - the law that was to put Watergate and all the shady ramifications it entailed behind us forever.

Some of Cupid's Arrows
Are Real Zingers

By JERRY PFARR

Friday is Valentine's Day and there is always something special and wonderful about that occasion. It's a time to be tender, a time to tell your true love exactly how you feel.

I was browsing at Jackie's Little Gallery yesterday and found just the card for you to send to your truly, truly fair.

It starts out like this:

"I got to thinking about you at lunchtime today and I got so excited..."

Then you turn inside and it says: "I tied my peanut butter sandwich in a knot!"

IF THAT ISN'T the card you're looking for, how about this one:

"Our love is higher than the highest mountain, wider than the widest river, deeper than the deepest ocean! ...Let's face it, we've got fat love."

OR MAYBE you'd like to send this one to your Valentine:

"Dear, you're the best there is ... and I deserve it."

YOUR WIFE would be delighted on Friday if she received this one from you:

"Valentine, I guarantee I'll love you forever ... or 24,000 miles ... whichever comes first."

BUT REALLY, in all seriousness, if you really want to please her, send her this card:

"I've half a mind to ask you to be my Valentine! ...The other half wants to ask Sophia Loren."

OKAY, ALL KIDDING aside. There are serious Valentine cards too, and each year they become more beautiful and more sophisticated. Hallmark, American Greetings and the other card manufacturers do a neat job in keeping up with the times.

I happen to be a poet, so I can write my own cards:

"Roses are reddish,
Violets are blue-ish,
If it weren't for Christmas,
We'd all be Jewish."

BUT MOST people need the greeting cards that are available in stores. They say so beautifully what we have in our hearts but can't express.

Except, I'll never forget the Valentine Days of eight and nine years ago when my daughters were little girls. And I would get those homemade cards - on red paper in the form of hearts, cut out not-very-perfectly with little scissors, and with those words printed so painstakingly by little hands that were just then learning how to make letters, like...

"I love you, Daddy."

Girls Remain Undefeated
In Conference

The Antioch girls basketball team under the coaching of Christy Arndt added two victories to their standings this past week. Last Tuesday evening the JV team defeated Stevenson by a score of 36-10. Debbie Rentner was high scorer with 12 points. Amy Ploss added 7, followed closely by Debbie Popp with 6.

The varsity team led by LuAnn Oddsen with 11 points chalked up a 43-36 victory. Other top scorers were Diane Cardiff with 10 and Debbie Haling with 8.

On Monday, the gals met Warren on their home court with the JV team romping to a 46-6 victory. Julie Lytle led the team with 14 points. Debbie Rentner followed with 10, pulling down 6 rebounds.

Kim Vasek led the varsity team to a 51-8 victory scoring 12 points and grabbing 7 rebounds. Carol Zeman added 10 and Kim Case and Judy Bjork both scored 8.

The girls will compete with Lake Zurich this coming Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Lake Zurich.

License Plate Deadline Extended

SPRINGFIELD -- Deadline for displaying 1975 Illinois passenger license plates has been extended to midnight, Saturday, Mar. 1, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has announced.

"Because of unexpected complications and a tremendous load of special number requests our office hasn't been able to complete processing of all applications," Howlett said.

License plates will continue to be sold over-the-counter at the State Bank.

It appears today every airline is doing their own thing and that is why I keep saying - call your local travel agent for he knows who has the best price to meet your needs.

Along with all these price changes, we will also have a major schedule change as a result of Daylight Saving Time effective Feb. 23. This will be a surprise to many of you for nothing has been mentioned about it being so early this year. Most of the United States will change, but not all, which will make things even more confusing. Guess that is life today.

Mrs. Holbek has been in critical condition in the intensive care ward at St. Therese hospital. Two others in her car also were taken to the hospital. Listed in satisfactory condition were her daughter, Tammy, 5, and Denise Koppa, 6, of Salem, Wis.

Average length of days for the week 10 hours, 47 minutes... Daylight Savings Time begins Feb. 23. Set clocks ahead one hour... It is said a modern house does well if it lasts as long as the mortgage on it.

Old Farmer's Riddle: What could you call a crying contest? (Answer below.)

Ask the Old Farmer: I know they spin wool to make yarn to darn holes in socks, but please tell me why they call it "spinning a yarn" when someone tells a tall tale? D. E., Huntington, West Va.

We figure you never saw much spinning done. The real sleight of spinning laid in the way that the spinner "stretched" the yarn. In fact, the whole process depended on it. Size, length, and twist. So, when old timers wanted to indicate that somebody was stretching the truth, they likened it to spinning a yarn.

Home Hint: Save the water in which potatoes are boiled and soak tarnished silverware in it for an hour. Wash and dry, and your silverware will be sparkling... Riddle answer: A bawl game.

CHANNEL LAKE CHATTER

If the snow won't come to you then you must go to the snow. That's exactly what Mike and Mary Jo Zeien did last week when they took a four day holiday to Hayward, Wis. They met Kathy and Rich Berhens up there and the two couples had a great snowmobiling weekend.

George Hucker became the founder and soul member of the Channel Lake Polar Bear Club when he and his snowmobile took a swim in the channel near his home. George is fine and even caught a fish in his machine.

Jackie Bjork blew out eight candles on her birthday cake last Tuesday. Happy birthday, Jackie.

Dale and Donna Conklin celebrated their 15th anniversary last Saturday evening by going out on the town with Wayne and Dolly Bobo. Dolly is Donna's mother.

An engagement dinner party was held at the Gutowski home in honor of Dorothy Enzenbacher and Tom Furman last Sunday evening. Toasting to the happy couple were the hosts Louise and Joe, Barbara and Don Bjork and Lorraine and Bob Lemke. The wedding date has been set for June 14 at Paty's Lounge.

Mrs. Mae Rzyzka was the hostess at a dinner party at her home last Sunday for some of her neighbors.

The Bi State Snow Drifters Snowmobile Club held their annual picnic on the beach at Camp Lake, Wis. Attending from our area were the Marcussen family, the Lemke family and Dorothy and Donna Chase. Susan Lemke won third prize in the nine year and younger obstacle course race. Her brother Jeff won second place in the 10-15 year old race. Sure was hard to keep the food warm long enough to eat it.

Don't forget the Fishing Derby this weekend. Even if you don't fish, take a walk around and enjoy all the festivities.

Let me know the news.

STARRING IN THE CURRENT PM&L play, "The Prisoner of 2nd Avenue," are Bob Andresen (left) and Pam Hill. The Neil Simon comedy opened last Saturday to a nearly-full house and will be repeated this Friday night and again on Saturday night. Final dates for the play are Friday, Feb. 21, and Saturday, Feb. 22.

PM&L Comedy Is Really Worth Seeing

Two weeks ago this newspaper's "Town Crier" column suggested that, henceforth, no events should be scheduled between 8 and 9 o'clock on Saturday nights.

The Town Crier suggested that everyone stay home during that hour and watch the most delightful shows on television - Mary Tyler Moore and Bob Newhart.

We have to make an exception. You really should go down to the PM&L Theatre on Antioch's Main St. and see "The Prisoner of 2nd Avenue."

It opened last Saturday and the near-capacity audience was delighted with it.

Additional performances are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. this Friday, this Saturday and again on Friday, Feb. 21, and Saturday, Feb. 22. (For reservations call 395-3055.)

THE NEIL SIMON comedy is not really unlike the kind of fun you see on the Bob Newhart show. And its stars, Bob Andresen, who plays Mel Edison, and Pam Hill, who portrays his wife, Edna, are very professional. In the entire play, there is never a dull or unpleasant moment.

The six-person cast also includes Bob Lindblad, Lillian Allen, Shirley Jensen and Shirley Bunker; and all four contribute superbly.

Director Tessa Smith and her crew deserve a pat on the back. Shucks, a hug and a kiss, even.

THE TWO-ACT comedy was considered one of the best plays to arrive on Broadway during the 1971-72 season.

Neil Simon's great ability to provide entertainment is well-known and thoroughly reflected in "Prisoner." He once supplied much of the material used on TV by Sid Caesar and Phil Silvers.

And then, of course, he scored with "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Odd Couple."

BOB ANDRESEN, as Mel Edison, is a "prisoner" in a 14th floor New York apartment. He and his wife have been living there for six years, surrounded by taller high-rise apartment buildings and plenty of noise.

Noise, for example, from the next apartment in which "two (expletive deleted) airline hostesses entertain," according to Mel, "two basketball players, two hockey players, or whatever team is in town ..."

Mel is 47 and beginning to unravel. Middle-class, early middle-aged anxiety is setting in.

Then, alas and alack, he loses his job. And their apartment is robbed ... including the Scotch ... and the tranquilizers.

"You mean we've been robbed? They broke in here?" Mel shouts.

"What do you think?" says Edna. "They called up and made an appointment?"

PAM HILL, as Edna, is very patient with her husband's distress. She goes to work and he wanders around jobless.

"When I go to the zoo," he tells his wife, "the monkeys nudge each other and say 'He's here again.'"

Twice during the play, while out on the terrace shouting at the upstairs neighbor, Mel gets doused with water.

But at the end of the play, he gets even. We won't tell you how. We want you to go and see it.

You'll enjoy the Neil Simon comedy, and you'll like the performers. They're very, very good. Typical PM&L. Never a bad show.

curious to find out what "The Flying Mallard" is all about.

The dinner should be something, too. John Doetsch of the Dutchman is catering the event and those thick prime ribs will be every bit as good as they were at last year's banquet.

A fascinating auction will be another feature of the Mar. 12 event. It's a local highlight of the year for Antioch sportsmen, and dads are being encouraged to bring their sons along, too.

DIANE SIMBROWSKY, who has been playing at the piano bar and singing so beautifully at the Brave Bull, will now be featured at the Copper Chimney on Rt. 12 near Wauconda.

Vince Patla, owner of the Brave Bull, hates to lose Diane and her musical talents, but is happy for her, since her new engagement is a step-up in her career.

Diane, 21, works at the State Bank of Antioch in addition to entertaining during the evening hours.

FEBRUARY IS a good month for getting the "blues" ... especially for those of us who can't escape to a vacation in a sunny climate.

Met a woman the other day and she had an interesting philosophy.

"Whenever I start feeling sorry for myself," she said, "I go and visit a hospital. Whether I know someone who is in there or not. And then, when I leave, I don't feel so sorry for myself anymore."

Hear ye!

Sequoits Get Past 'Pesky' Warren

Eye Another Win Friday, Then Record on Saturday

If Antioch basketball fans were wondering if their beloved Sequoits were going to give them another thrilling season ... yes, folks, it's happening.

Last Friday's game at Warren was a thriller. The Sequoits led by only 51-48 with 1:42 remaining. Then Kevin Walpole drove in from the corner for the neatest layup of the night and Mike Witt hit for two points. Antioch led 55-48 ... the worries were over ... and the final score mounted to 61-52.

It was Antioch's 9th straight conference win this season and 25th over the past three seasons. That ties the old league record set by Barrington in 1950.

This Saturday the Sequoits will go for a new record - 26 straight conference wins - when they host Woodstock at 8:15 p.m.

BUT FIRST they face a tough non-conference opponent when North Chicago plays here Friday night at 8:15.

"North Chicago is a good ball club," said Coach Roger Andrews of Antioch. "They have fellows 6-6 and 6-4 in the front line. And the one who is 6-6, Yarborough, is the top scorer in the county."

Antioch's top scorer, Mike Perrone, probably will get the job of guarding Yarborough.

Antioch beat North Chicago 65-58 last year. A victory this Friday is vital to Antioch's prestige. The Sequoits have Lake County's best overall record, 17-3, and don't want it marred.

LAST WEEK'S win over Warren wrapped up the conference title for the Sequoits. They lead by three games with only four to play - and they aren't going to lose all four, if any.

The won-lost records read like this: Antioch 9-0, Cary Grove 6-3, Warren 6-3, Grant 5-4, Stevenson 5-4, Grayslake 4-5, Round Lake 4-5, Wauconda 3-6, Woodstock 3-6 and Lake Zurich 0-9.

PERRONE, who is averaging about 22 points a game, led Antioch against Warren with 18. Scott Kimball was sharp, too, scoring 16 points while Russ Albano contributed 13 and Mike Witt 8.

Kimball pulled down nine rebounds.

The Sequoits played well in the first quarter and enjoyed a 16-point lead at one point in the second period. Then they went flat and Warren closed the gap to 10 points, 36-26, at half-time.

That seemed to give Warren's Blue Devils some momentum and they closed the crevice to six points in the third quarter as the Sequoits committed too many fouls and had eight turnovers.

FINALLY, AFTER their lead was shaved to three points, the Sequoits put things back together in the final two minutes. Walpole's key basket provided the spark and then he passed to Witt for the basket that gave Antioch a 7-point lead.

"I thought our guards did a real good job," Coach Andrews said. "And Scotty Kimball played well all night, both on offense, defense and rebounding."

Perrone held Warren's top scorer, Mickey Leafblad, without a point in the first half.

"We sometimes need a game like this to learn to hold our cool," said Andrews, whose team has routed most of its rivals by huge margins.

"In the last two minutes we made all four of our shots and stole the ball three times on the press," Andrews said. "I'm extremely proud of our kids."

When Albano had foul trouble, Mitch Witt came off the bench and played steady basketball, the coach said.

He pointed out that another reserve, Jon Bodin, did a good job, too.

"It was a real super team effort," Andrews said.

Frosh Regain Share of Lead

Antioch's freshman basketball team met its challenge Saturday, knocking off Warren's undefeated Blue Devils 43-41 to regain a share of first place in their conference.

The two teams have 8-1 records in the league and the Antioch frosh are 10-4 overall.

THE ANTIOCH club obviously had traveled to Gurnee to "play basketball." The future Sequoits jumped to a 6-0 lead and were in front until the third quarter.

Then Warren did some hot shooting and took a four-point lead which it enjoyed until two minutes remained in the game.

Then the hustling Antioch players capitalized on Warren turnovers and moved in front by three points with only seconds remaining. Antioch successfully played "keep-away" to preserve the win.

THE ANTIOCH coaches called it a "real team effort," as Tom Huebner led all scorers with 17 points. He was perfect from the field, hitting 7 for 7.

Tim Huebner scored 9 points and was 7 for 9 from the foul line. He led in rebounding with 11.

Dennis Korjenek helped in breaking the Warren press and had 9 assists. Coaches said John Eder, Kenn Rosenbrock and Al Roth did well on defense.

Earlier last week the young Sequoits beat Libertyville 48-46, erasing a seven-point deficit in the final three minutes.

Tom and Tim Huebner scored 14 and 13 points respectively.

Korjenek and Eder each had six assists. Once again the Antioch press pulled the game from the flames. Coaches especially praised Tom Huebner for his hustle on defense.

The "B" team suffered two losses last week - 31-24 to Libertyville and 38-27 to Warren. Coaches had praise for leading scorer Joe Vojtech and also Lutz Wudtke, Rick Motley and David Walpole "for their hustle and all-around play."

Antioch's frosh will play Woodstock here next Monday.

Travel

Sept. 15, the discount drops to 20 percent. The discount for children (under 12 years) is 50 percent of regular coach fare year around.

The fare carries a 14 day advance purchase requirement and a minimum of seven days and maximum of 30 days. However some airlines have filed and are being approved for the advance purchase requirement at only 7 days, so check to make sure which would be best for you. Also one stopover is allowed so for those of you going to the west coast who want to stop over at Las Vegas - either going or coming - this is a tremendous savings.

After reading this, if you are still confused give a call. We know how it is, for all of us were going bananas around the office after all these different announcements by the various airlines. As they say, mass confusion keeps one on his toes.

Varsity Wrestlers 2nd in Conference

Antioch's varsity wrestlers placed second in the Northwest Suburban conference tournament last Saturday, scoring 119½ points while Grayslake compiled 128½.

Antioch had three individual champions and placed in 10 of the 12 weight classes.

"They wrestled a good tournament but were unable to catch a Grayslake team that also wrestled extremely well," said Coach Ted DeRousse.

Antioch took three wrestlers to the finals and all three won titles.

Robin Aerne, at 98 pounds, scored wins of 27-4, 10-3 and 11-5 as he dominated his class.

"He wrestled with a reckless and aggressive style," his coach said.

Scott Shaffer was the class of the tournament at 112 pounds, scoring a fall in one minute and 11 seconds, then winning decisions by 17-3 and 5-1.

Dennis Thain, at 132 pounds, took the title with a 6-2 win over last year's champion. He reached the finals with wins of 12-1 and 6-0.

Placing third for Antioch were John Davis at 105, Dave Kisner at 126 and Bill Hogan, 138.

Fourth place winners were Bill Coles at 145, Dave Bogaerts 155, Art Meyer 185 and heavyweight Mike Weber.

This weekend DeRousse takes his team to Woodstock for the Illinois High School Association district tournament.

Antioch has to be considered a title threat because of last week's performance in the conference meet. Sessions begin at 7 p.m. Friday, resume at 1 p.m. Saturday, and wind up with the finals at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

A LEFT-HANDED LAYUP by Mike Witt is good for two points as Antioch beats Warren 61-52. The Sequoit at the right is Mike Perrone. It was Antioch's 25th consecutive conference win, equalling the league record. The Sequoits plan to break the record Saturday night when they play Woodstock here at 8:15 p.m. The coaches and players are hoping for a big turnout to join them in the celebration.

Soph Wrestlers (17-0) But Frustrated in Finale

Antioch's sophomore wrestlers won some battles last Saturday, but they lost the war. They wound up fourth in the Grant Invitational, a 10-team affair.

Grant triumphed with 97 points, Wauconda had 76½, Grayslake 63½, Antioch 60 and Warren 56.

The other five teams trailed behind.

It was a day of pure frustration for the sophomore Sequoits, who had met and defeated nine conference opponents during the regular season only to finish fourth in the end-of-the-year tournament.

The sophs wound up with the unique distinction of being the only Antioch sophomore team ever to finish with a 17-0 record in dual meets and still not win the conference title.

Here's how Antioch's wrestlers fared in the tournament:

98 pounds - Bob Gossman won the title by taking three one-sided decisions over his opponents.

112 - Don Traska won three of his four matches and placed third.

126 - Bill Harland won three out of four, also finishing third.

132 - John Kakacek took second.

145 - Dan DiGiovanni placed fourth.

Heavyweight - Bob DuCato wound up second.

Grass Lake's 8th grade basketball team went on a scoring spree last week for a 53-23 win over Lotus.

The score was only 14-10 at the half, then Grass Lake really got hot.

Antioch by 9 Points! Steve Pilcher Was Right: He Wins $15

Steve Pilcher of Lake Villa, 15-year-old member of Antioch High School's sophomore basketball team, won last week's Antioch News contest.

He picked Antioch to beat Warren by nine points.

Antioch led by seven, 59-52, with one second to play. Mike Witt had two free throws. Nobody wanted him to sink them more than Steve did. The shots went in and the final margin was nine points.

So the first-prize check of $15 goes to Steve Pilcher.

THERE WAS a four-way tie for second place. Picking Antioch to win by eight points were Dennis De Boer, Joan Stewart, Shirley Gutowski and Tom McAvoy.

Dennis was the only one who got the tie-breaker right, picking Warren's sophomores to win. So he gets second prize - a $10 gift certificate at Gibbs & Jenssen's Carousel.

Joan Stewart picked Antioch's sophs to win by only one point - so she earns the third place prize, a $5 savings account at the State Bank of Antioch. Shirley Gutowski missed by only one point, picking Antioch's sophs by two.

SEVERAL OTHER contestants came close. Don Hills picked Antioch's varsity to win by seven points. Also only two points off were those who predicted the Sequoit varsity would win by 11. They were Louise Radke, Jim Harvey and Alice Johnson.

Alice has displayed her "ESP" on three other occasions - winning our football contest twice and placing second in the basketball contest a couple of weeks ago.

ANOTHER BASKETBALL contest appears in today's issue of the Antioch News. First prize once again is $15. Second prize is a $10 savings account at the State Bank of Antioch and third prize is a $5 gift certificate at the Grass Lake Lumber Company.

The "Game of the week" is Friday's contest between Antioch and North Chicago. It should be a tough one to pick. North Chicago has a pretty good team.

The tie-breaker will be Saturday's game here between Antioch and Woodstock.

Join the crowd. Enter the contest and have some fun. You might win $15. Ask Steve Pilcher.

The Warren Bluedevils defeated the soph cagers by a score of 58-33 last Saturday. The team now stands 2 and 7 in the conference.

Bill Dubek led the Sequoits with 19 points.
